

Article Presentations

Your group will be in charge of reading two additional articles from the “Money and Success” section of the book Rereading America. This section begins on page 241. There are nine additional articles to choose from. Obviously, you may not choose one of the articles we have read as a class. Once you have selected your articles, you need to read those articles and make a presentation to the class that includes the article’s main points. You will also need to develop a handout for the class that will outline these points for your peers. This handout must be given to me to be copied for the class prior to your presentation date. To ensure ample copy time, please e-mail the handout to me two days before your scheduled presentation. My e-mail is sheila.adkins@adrian.k12.mo.us

Dividing the Work:

Directions: Each group will be required to complete this step and turn it in with their final project.

1. As a group, list all tasks that must be accomplished by your group in order to complete this project successfully. Then on a sheet of paper, make a table like the one shown below. On this table, list the names of all group members.
2. List the work that each member will be responsible for in the space below. (Make certain that work is divided equally.)
3. Describe briefly how each member of the group will contribute to the group’s presentation to the class.

The table below gives an example of how work may be divided. Your group will, undoubtedly, come up with more steps that need to be taken to complete this project successfully. This is not intended to be an exhaustive list of steps that need to be taken.

Group Members	Work	Presentation
Kassidy Owen	Read, research and outline pages 241-250	Speaking during slides 1-4
Chuck Fredricks	PowerPoint and class handout	Speaking during slides 5-8
Jeff Franklin	Read, research, and outline pages 261-278	Speaking during slides 9-12
